

The ANZTLA *E*Journal

Australian and New Zealand Theological Library Association  No. 30 (2023)

Theses at the Alphacrucis College
Auckland library

Welcome to this issue of the ANZTLA EJournal. I have authored an article detailing the ever-increasing number of library projects being undertaken at my library – with the goal of achieving the perfectly correct library catalogue. Spoiler alert – it doesn't exist! But that doesn't mean we can't still aim for it in our own libraries. I hope it encourages and inspires you to share similar projects and outcomes. This issue also features two submissions for the After Whom is Your Library Named? section from the Divine Word Missionaries and Carey Baptist College libraries. Have you thought to share the story behind your library's name? It can provide an interesting journey of discovery for the author and is of great interest to our members and non-members alike.

The ANZTLA Annual Statistics for 2022 are herein presented too. These statistics are a valuable source of data for benchmarking and, this year, over 60% of member libraries responded which is great.

I encourage you to submit, not only your library's story behind its name, but also articles that will surely be of interest to our membership. What have you been considering or implementing at your library lately?

Kerrie Stevens
EJournal Manager

Contents

- 2 Library Catalogue Projects
- 25 After Whom is Your Library Named?
- 26 Patrick Murphy Memorial Library – Divine Word Missionaries
- 30 The Ayson Clifford Library – Carey Baptist College
- 34 ANZTLA 2022 Statistics