

The ANZTLA E Journal

Australian and New Zealand Theological Library Association  No. 17 (2016)

The image used as the Canberra Conference emblem is taken from The Gospel According to John Illuminated by Fiona Pfennigwerth, an Australian artist based in Newcastle. The red-tailed black cockatoo feather is Fiona's representation of the Holy Spirit. Based on careful reading of the text and theological research, The Gospel According to John Illuminated seeks to draw people into the world of this Gospel and suggest its depths. A description of Fiona's illustration process and layout can be found here: <https://fionapfennigwerth.info/media/John-layout-explained.pdf>. Her beautiful image encapsulates what proved to be a wonderful conference with many interesting and informative speakers. Their papers are shared in this issue and we hope that they may be useful to you and your libraries.

Eve James, Kerrie Stevens and Huw Sandaver

Editorial team

Contents

2	A Different Spirit of Anzac: Illuminating Religion and War in Australian Archives	52	Guiding Your Users to Library Resources: a Case Study of LibGuides at Charles Sturt University
12	Jeanette Little Scholarship Recipient Report	63	From Reading To Seeing: The Path To John Illuminated
14	Jeanette Little Scholarship Recipient Report	74	The Ballad of Reading in Gaol
17	Theological Scholarship and Pedagogy: Trends Derived from Recent Research	78	Luther Bible
36	Build It and They Will Come: What To Consider When Building Library Based Learning Spaces For the 21 st Century	85	Bodies of/and Books: Purpose, Prayer and Play in Books Made for Medieval Women
46	Interactive Reading Lists	111	Conference Group Photo
		112	Contributors