
THEOLOGY CATALOGING BULLETIN

Vol. 13, No. 4

AUGUST 2005

Theology Cataloging Bulletin (TCB), a quarterly newsletter of the Technical Services Section of the American Theological Library Association, is published November, February, May, and August. It contains listings of new and changed subject headings and classification numbers in appropriate subject areas as well as other information of interest to religion/theology catalogers.

The subject headings in section one of each issue are selected by Joanna Hause (Southeastern University, Lakeland, Florida) from the Library of Congress' Subject Headings Weekly Lists. Section two contains Library of Congress Subject Headings/DDC Numbers of Current Interest, prepared by Paul Osmanski (Marist College Library, Washington, DC), and Library of Congress Classification Additions and Changes, prepared by Eric Friede (Yale University Divinity School, New Haven, Connecticut). The general information in this publication (section three) is edited by Lynn Berg (New Brunswick Theological Seminary, New Brunswick, New Jersey). Submissions for the newsletter should be sent to Lynn Berg at the following address:

SECTION ONE: NEW AND CHANGED SUBJECT HEADINGS

COMPILED BY JOANNA HAUSE

The subject headings in this list were selected from the Library of Congress Subject Headings Weekly Lists, available on the Library of Congress web site at: <http://lcweb.loc.gov/catdir/cpso/cps.html#subjects>.

This list consists of headings selected from the Library's list numbers 14–25 of 2005.

The following conventions are used, as in previous lists:

Headings are in a single alphabetical sequence, preceded by MARC tags. The record number (Library of Congress control number) follows the heading. The absence of the instruction [May Subd Geog] means that the heading is not to be further divided by place.

The following print constants appear:

UF = Used For

BT = Broader Term

RT = Related Term

SA = See Also

* Asterisks mark lines (or paragraphs) that are CHANGES.

Selected changes to free-floating subdivisions are at the end of the list.

SECTION TWO, PART 2: LC CLASSIFICATION
ADDITIONS AND CHANGES, B-BX
COMPILED BY ERIC FRIEDE

The entries in this list were selected from the Library of Congress, Cataloging Policy and Support Office's Library of Congress Classification Weekly List, 16 (April 20, 2005) to 29 (July 20, 2005).

"Weekly lists of additions and changes to the Library of Congress Classification are posted on the Cataloging Policy and Support Office web site as they are approved."—"About the Weekly Lists" (<http://lcweb.loc.gov/catdir/cpso/wlcabt.html>). The complete weekly lists are available at: <http://lcweb.loc.gov/catdir/cpso/cps.html#class>.

The class letter identifies the schedule and edition to which changes and additions are made. "Existing lines provided as anchor points are shown in italics, with ellipses. An asterisk at the end of a line indicates a change in an existing number, caption, etc."—From the heading preceding each list. Changes are also highlighted in gray.

This list also includes some changes and additions outside the B-BX classes relating to religious topics or library science.

SECTION THREE: NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE MEMBERS OF THE ATLA TECHNICAL SERVICES SECTION

EDITED BY LYNN BERG

EDITOR'S CORNER

TCB ACCESS AND SUBSCRIPTION CHANGES

Dear TCB Subscribers,

As you know, ATLA currently provides TCB online free of charge to all members. ATLA also sends the print version free to members who request it and to non-member subscribers for a fee.

In the past few years, ATLA has received no revenue from non-member subscriptions. Furthermore, the print version is straight from the pdf available on the Web and no different in quality from what subscribers would get from printing it on their own.

ATLA has therefore decided to discontinue the print version of TCB starting with the next issue, November 2005. Members may access the html and pdf versions online, and non-members may access TCB by joining as members.

If you have any questions, please contact me (see my contact information on the masthead).

CONTRIBUTION INFORMATION

Deadlines for submission to TCB are:

November issue: October 15

February issue: January 15

May issue: April 15

August issue: July 15

You can send your submission(s) to me by regular mail, fax, or e-mail. See the masthead for my contact information. Unsigned contributions are supplied by the editor.

As always, everyone is encouraged to send in news; articles; reviews; bibliographies; cataloging cartoons and anecdotes; how-to and how-not-to advice; reports of workshops you've given or attended; summaries of papers you've given or heard read; questions; answers; local cataloging department news; opinions on cataloging policies and practices; evaluations of software, hardware, cataloging tools & products, Web sites, etc.

ALA 2005: SUMMARY OF TECHNICAL SERVICES EVENTS

This year the main focus of my time at the conference was on Connexion, Authorities, and future trends.

The first meeting I attended was Technical Services Directors of Large Research Libraries, commonly referred to as Big Heads. There were a couple of useful items I picked up here. Several of the universities have divided up the languages and are focusing on their European backlogs. Harvard has taken German. There was a report about canceling print subscriptions to journals. Most are cancelled as they move toward online access, but they are maintaining one print copy somewhere in their consortium. They studied the financial impact and found that it is taking three to five years for any benefits to show up, but the benefits include the cost of the print copies, savings in binding costs, and savings in staff time from check-in and bindery processing. Most of the reporting institutions have moved the staff who no longer have check-in duties to scanning duties.

The OCLC Symposium featured Chris Anderson, who spoke at length about his concept of the long tail, which he wrote about in Wired in 2004, with responses from three other people. The point I picked up from this is that if we only have the most popular books and journals, we won't be meeting the needs of 25–40 percent of our users. Items need to be described in depth, because most users are not able to browse the shelves to find what they need.

Saturday morning's first meeting echoed this last thought, as the focus was on providing access to items in storage. Cataloging should be as detailed as possible, items that are bound together should each be described and the records linked for circulation purposes, and the display of the storage information in the OPAC should be clear to the user.

The Catalog Management Discussion Group had a presentation on OCLC's quality control activities. Last year they adjusted name and subject headings in 9.3 million records. Duplicate detection has been run fifteen times over the years, but the program must be rewritten before it will work in Connexion. They now have software that finds subject terms in the wrong subfield so corrections can be made. With a future upgrade of Connexion, we will be able to choose the level of validation preferred.

The Cataloging Norms Discussion Group had a presentation on vendor-supplied authority control. They discussed what to expect from the process and what still needs to be done locally. The procedures I developed this year meet the recommendations. I heard that in some systems you can protect certain fields in the authority records.

At the OCLC breakfast, I sat at the catalogers' table and learned that next year all libraries will have to have subscription pricing for their cataloging activities. The price they set will be based on activities from calendar year 2005, so I suggest being conservative in the amount of searching done the rest of this year, as it will affect the future budget.

The Connexion Users Group included some current features and future enhancements. They seemed to be excited about the statistics, which are now free with Connexion, instead of for a fee as with the previous interfaces. You can see them at www.stats.oclc.org/cusp/nav. There was also a presentation about controlling headings. They recommended doing a Control All, then going ahead and replacing the master record, before doing any other editing. The cataloger must be logged on with a full-level authorization to do this.

The Authority Control in the Online Environment Interest Group included discussion of using MARC authority records in an XML environment. Some of this was over my head technically, but it was nice to see what some libraries are doing to create and share additional authority records.

The Copy Cataloging Discussion Group had a presentation on CIP updating at the Library of Congress. They discussed the level of staff, the procedures followed, and the relationship with publishers. LC is encouraging most publishers to join the program that submits complete galleys electronically to the CIP process. This is better for subject analysis and avoids many of the mistakes that were frequent in the past.

HUMAN ECOLOGY (MAY SUBD GEOG)

How much can you save by publishing a book on postconsumer waste recycled paper? Continuum Publishing has the answer. By publishing one of their books¹ on only 50 percent postconsumer waste recycled paper, they saved 53 trees, 2,473 pounds of solid waste, 22,429 gallons of water, 4,858 pounds of greenhouse gases, and 9,020 kilowatt hours of electricity.
